

From the Principal's Desk

There is no continuum for success. Focus on the progress, not the results.

-Nick Saban

Dear Parents/Students,

One of the purest and deeply inspirational relationships is that of a devoted teacher and a willing student.

Almost everyone has a favorite teacher, and some we liked less. What causes us to still cherish these relationships and harbor powerful sentiments of respect and affection (and sometimes a shuddering dislike) for those individuals who were responsible for mentoring us? The answer is quite simple. It's how the student teacher relationships were developed, nurtured, and given space to evolve.

The ability to forge a positive, powerful relationship between a student and teacher may seem like a difficult task at first, but can be easily accomplished by creating a strong learning environment. The learning is not a one-way process alone; an effective learning environment is where all individuals involved learn from each other. While students learn a particular subject from a teacher, the teacher learns how to improve her teaching skills and make the lessons more interesting by gaining insights from the students. Thus, both parties learn from each other. Many qualities define a positive relationship and pave ways on how to create powerful student teacher relationships.

The most important element in building strong relationships is Trust and Mutual Respect. To establish this, we need to connect and have good communication, a safe learning environment, a positive and patient attitude, student equality and timely praise. The teacher who becomes the 'favorite' is one who possesses these in good measure.

Not all students are alike. While some quickly grasp the concepts taught and take an active part in the learning process, others may be shy, uninterested or even downright disruptive. This puts additional responsibility on a teacher to create such an atmosphere which is conducive to an interesting learning process. It's the teachers who are like sculptors and students, the soft clay, ready to be molded into a masterpiece.

As Aristotle once said, "those who educate children well are more to be honored than those who produce them; for these only gave them life, those arts of living well."

Discipline:

If each letter is given score as it appears in alphabet the sum is $4+9+19+3+9+16+12+9+14+5=100$.

Hence, DISCIPLINE means being at your best.

Let's join hands at Tattva to 'Build, Nurture & Foster' these beautiful bonds.

Student Cabinet:

We welcome the new cabinet, the elected and nominated student members. I am sure they will keep the school flying high and bring laurels to our esteemed institution.

Pre-primary Events and Activities

Back to School: Day one First Day of School - Pre-primary:

The first day of school is the start of a journey of knowledge and learning.

We had the pleasure of greeting our young students on their first day of kindergarten. One of the most important stages in a child's life is entering kindergarten. Making a child's first day at school exciting and inviting can have a major impact on their academic journey.

Pre-primary classrooms were decked up to greet our little ones. The back-to-school season provided an opportunity for students to make new friends and get a head start after their summer holidays. As these little tots prepared for the new academic year, a welcome present and a small treat undoubtedly helped to set the tone.

Settling Period Sensory Play Activities:

Sensory play can offer children just what they crave: Hands-On-Fun that stimulates a multitude of senses. It is not just about keeping them entertained but boost their fine and gross motor skills which aids to cognitive development. Children enjoyed many sensory activities like sponge dabbing gardening, play dough activity, paper tearing, blow painting, water pouring, paper strips sticking, balloon printing, fingerprint activity, pom pom colour sorting, sensory bin activity, pipe cleaner fishing game and sand tracing.

Activities @ School

Red Day Celebration and Special Assembly:

Can we imagine the world without Colours? The color of love and smile illuminate the air with energy. The first color day of the new academic year 2022-2023 was celebrated on Thursday 30th June 2022. The color red symbolizes enthusiasm, life and vitality. The day started with a vibrant display of red color in the pre-primary section. The children and teachers were seen in different shades of red dresses. The shades of red made our tiny tots feel bright, lively and cheerful. They looked stunning in their outfits. Students actively participated in the 'Red Day' special assembly, action rhyme competition and craft activities.

Special Assembly

World Environment Day:

Every year on June 5th, the world celebrates World Environment Day. On this occasion, a special assembly was held. The children wore headgears with environmental themes. The HM and the teachers discussed about the environment and shared why it's important to protect it. Children were taught about the value of trees, how to plant more trees, how to save water, power, and pollution, and how to become eco-friendlier. A nature walk was arranged for the kids. With their small watering cans, they watered the plants and planted saplings. The children gained valuable hands-on experience and learned a lot.

Activities @ School

Father's Day Celebration:

Father's Day is a celebration honoring fathers and highlighting fatherhood, paternal ties, and the influence of fathers in our society.

On June 16, the pre-primary students enthusiastically celebrated Father's Day Special Assembly. Little boys and girls wore black pants, white t-shirts, black caps and moustaches to look just like their dads. The pledge, news, thought for the day and a father's Day speech were all included in the assembly's opening moments. On Father's Day children made message-filled tie book markers and gave them to their fathers. Pre-primary students enjoyed the puppet show and they enthusiastically participated in the coloring activity.

International Yoga Day:

Pre-primary students were reminded of the proverb "Health is Wealth" on International Yoga Day. The special assembly began with a prayer, pledge, news, thought for the day, rhyme, and speech on 'Yoga,' which was followed by a presentation of colorful charts on 'International Yoga Day.'

The students played their role of participating in the Yoga Day by practicing along with some basic asanas demonstrated by the teachers. They were also given an understanding of what yoga is and how it plays an important part in shaping our health. The little ones enthusiastically put in their best efforts in demonstrating every asana to the best of their ability.

Star Of The Week

Star of the week is one of the best ways to know our students on a deeper level. Students feel special for a whole week and it promotes classroom community.

Star of the week is one week in the year, where students get to be celebrated. Each day, they get a special privilege. Once the week is up, we feel more connected and the students feel appreciated.

Star student parents should visit school at 9 am on Fridays with the star of the week chart to share about their child's uniqueness and individuality.
